

Rogelio Manzo

Born September 1st. 1975

Statement:

I'm interested in chaos, accident and the harmony and beauty found within. In my work I provoke the accident to later, during the creative process, embrace it looking for reconciliation and homeostasis. I force in the problem to then rebuild within it. Is, during this forceful battle, where I find harmony and beauty.

My pragmatic approach has allowed me to discover and merge different materials and techniques. I spent my childhood and younger years in Mexico, when I had the opportunity I visited artisans to their shops, and I traveled to some of Mexico's major art crafts producers states like Jalisco, Michoacán, Oaxaca, and the central Mexican valley, there I visited several shops of recognized artisans, and was inspired by the richness of materials and variety of techniques, color and textures they fearlessly use, their passion to make their work look "hand-made" with much care to fine manufacture, has deeply influenced me on what an art piece should look like.

My process is relatively complex and it has taken me quite some time to be able to understand the materials I use, as I'm always looking for new ways of incorporating new materials and technologies in my work.
